Second Day's Game Is Different From the First, But Short and Tame.

El Paso 3

(By N. M. Walker.) A milder day, a tamer game and a tie score closed the White Sox festival of baseball Thursday afternoon. It was a denatured game, going but seven innings to a tie in order that the Sox might eatch Tea & Pea for east Texas and Oklahoma City. One Olmstead, a favorite son of the favorite maker of foot ease, lobbed over the offerings for the visitors until the seventh inning, when he finlimbered his coast artillery and shot 'em over to beat a hob tailed when he diffilimbered his coast artiflery and shot 'em over to beat a bob tailed flush. One Harbin, of the Loretz & Kepley commission house, took a half holiday and worked for the wild cats to the credit of himself and the local club, Sox Start Scoring First. Reversing the running of the day be-fore, the Sox started the scoring in the second inning, Gandil, alias Chick Arnold, slammed out a merciless three bagger off of one of Harbin's benders bagger off of one of Harbin's benders and cashed in on Blackburn's single. The Sox returned the compliment in the next inning. Barrows bungled a fair catch in left allowing Harbin to get one-fourth of the distance around the bases. A wild throw by one "Oom Paul" Krueger, catcher extraordinary to the W. S. in an effort to catch McCarthy at first sent Harbin to the home rubber. The local club made it three of a kind in the fifth off of a series of hits, one triple to left by Earthman, a double by Chayka to the same truck patch and a ittle sacrifce by Merritt.

In the seventh the Sox sewed up the score good and tight with two runs off of four hits which is fair enough for such a fair day. Collins, who went in for Zieder when the clever second baseman wrenched his only good ankle running bases, lammed out a single. Parent had a little of the same, Gandil shunted one to left field, and Blackburn repeated the performance of his batting order predecessor by slapping one out to left where "Shakey" Chayka happened not to be. Mackey's decision in the not to be. Mackey's decision in the final inning was questioned when Gandli hit the dirt at home plate. Merritt received the peg from Chayka in time to stab at the runner, but from the stand it looked safe by a foot. Merritt stabbed at Gandil a second time, circumstantial evidence in favor of the defendant. Block, who caught Wednesday's game, umpired and got away with it with more credit than did Sutor, who swore his decision was right on third Wednesday, although he modestly admits he is no numire professionally speaking.

Umpires-Mackey and Block. HEYDLER TALKS OF KLING CASE

Defends Commission For Making Him Live up to His Contract.

New York, N. Y., April 1 .- Somebody ise has been talking about that neverdown Kling case. This time it is John Heydler, secretary and treasurer of the National league. Last night the official came out with a strong defence of the recent action of the commission in reinstating the catcher without approval of Ban Johnson. Here is what Heydler has to say: "Had the commission officially designated the Chicago semi-professional eague as an outlaw league prior to Kling's affiliation with an organization, then there would have been no recourse but to impose the extreme penalty on the player.

The finding is just and equitable and is most fair to the player. Making it mandatory on the player to return to Chicago and fulfil the last year of his three year contract at the figure he signed for is splendid from every angle of baseball law. I doubt if the commission was divided on that particular point. It is the best part of the finding. It means that a contract once entered nto whether by the club on one side or the player or manager on the other must be respected and lived up to. This is the meat of the decision and simply reiterates the principle upon which organized baseball is founded."

CINCINNATI REDS MAY GET JOHNNY KLING

Hot Springs, Ark., April 1 .- Rumor has it—and authentic rumor too—that two of the classiest players in the world, Larry McLean, who has left the red camp and returned to Cincinnati, and Johnny Kling, just reinstated by the national commission, will be transferred. Also the deal will involve one other player, yet unnamed.

According to the plan outlined, Griffith wired manager McGraw of the Giants, who is in the south, asking him what inducements he will make the club for McLean. If McGraw will come to the point designated, he will get his heavyweight catcher in return player or players now on his staff. Then the Cincinnati club will take up with president Murphy the question of getting Kling, and it is freely remarked about the Eastman hotel, where the Reds are now stopping, that Herrman will offer players and $20,000 cash for the great catcher.

tion, he has held many other offices.

As a good illustration of one of those accidents for which nobody can account is the scalding by steam Tuesday night of Pettus Stanfield, the night engineer at hotel Sheldon. The cause of the pipe break remains a mystery as does that feet steel has given way

Strangely the hotel heating plant had been thoroughly inspected only a few hours before the accident by an expert boilermaker, and pronounced in perfect condition. The pipe which gave way was an extra heavy one, and flawless from its appearance. The pressure of steam at the time of the accident was no greater than at any other time. The around this particular pipe and found nothing wrong. Engineer Dan R. Stedham, in charge of the hotel plant, was greatly worried over the affair, although the accident was in no way his responsibility. Stan-field despite rumors to the contrary, is steadlly improving. His burns are of a more painful than dangerous nature.
